

Unit 2 Resource: Revision Template

Most students benefit from switching study techniques when they are revising. It's very difficult to study for 1 – 2 hours just by reading notes and text books. Try this template and then apply it to all of your subjects. The general rule is to spend approximately 25 minutes on each of these tasks for one topic area. This is called the Pomodoro Technique and you can download a free app to help with timings (search for Pomodoro + app + free).
